

Basic Detail Report

---

00055507

Title

Nulla nulla (club)

Date

1850-1950

Medium

wood

Dimensions

Overall: 705 × 53 mm, 461 g

Name

Club

History

The nulla nulla has four general head shapes - round head, knob head, beak head and flat head. Made generally of hard wood, they are strong enough to use in hunting, combat or for digging, but light enough to carry. Another name for the nulla in the Sydney region is waddy and they are able to be used by both men and women.