History

RMS ORCADES was a steel twin screw vessel of 9764 tons. Built in 1906 by Akt. Ges Vulcan at Stettin, Germany and originally launched as PRINZ LUDWIG. It operated on trade routes in Asia prior to World War I and was taken over by the British government after the war. It was purchased by the Orient Steam Navigation Company in 1921 and served on the passenger trade route between Britain and Australia. It was scrapped in 1925.
